HERE COMES THE SUN

You can almost understand why The Beatles wrote a song about the sun and it "being all right", because honestly, this has been a long and cold winter.

The weather is warming up, the sun is rising a little bit earlier and setting just a small bit later. We can't wait for those long, hot summer days so that we can start complaining about just how hot it is - the weather in South Africa really is one long vicious cycle, but at least it gives us lots to talk about.

One thing is for certain though, no matter the weather conditions, PBR International has a product for you that is going to help bring your garden to life.

MEET THE TEAM

The team at PBR International recently headed to town in search of the best hotdogs. We landed up at "The Power and the Glory" and had a lovely lunch of hotdogs and beers.

It's good to get out of the office every now and then and have a meal with your co-workers out of the office environment. Our hunt for the best hotdog in Cape Town continues. Do you have any hidden gems that we should know about?
